SECTION B (50 MARKS)

51. Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow in full sentences.

Thirty years ago, children in schools had never heard of the Internet. Now I bet you cannot find a single child in your school who has never heard of it. In fact, many of the adults use it on a regular basis and even access it from their homes. The "Net" in Internet stands for network. A network is two or more computer connected together so that information can be shared or sent from one computer to another. The Internet is the widest source of all information.

You may enjoy when researching over given activities by teachers, down loading favourite music or games, communicating with friends or family members on WhatsApp. Family members can share important information and their problems on the WhatsApp groups. Information is accessed through web pages that companies, institutions and individuals create and post. It is kind of a giant bulletin board that the world uses. Since anyone can put anything on the Internet, you also have to be careful. You need to use your best judgment and a little common sense.

Questions:

a) What had the children never heard?

b) What is the widest source of information?

c) According to the passage, what do family members use to share information?

d) What do people download?
